

Vocal Performance

Taught by our amazing vocal coach, Britni Favero, this group class focuses on technique as well as stage presence. Students will work on solo numbers, exploring a variety of music genres and performing in front of their class at least twice a month. An end-of-semester recital for friends and family in our theater will give our aspiring singers a chance to showcase their talents. Student confidence is built on positive peer feedback and a supportive environment. Space is limited and these classes will fill quickly.
